COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY,

JUNE, 30, 1915.

NUMBER 35

Jamestown--Russell County.

A representative of The News was in Jamestown the two first days of the present term of Russell circuit court.

Monday morning, before day light a heavy rain storm struck Jamestown, but the only damage reported was the uprooting of trees, here and there, in the suburbs of the place. The storm was so fierce, accompanied by a continuous roaring of the elements, many people became more or less frightened.

The rain raised all the water courses, and, as a consequence, people were late in reaching town, and many who were expected failed to put in an appearance. Judge Carter and Mr. A.

A. Huddleston did not reach their destination until about the noon hour, hence court was not organized until in the afternoon. After the grand jury had been instructed, four Republican candidates to represent Casey and Russell spoke to the dear people.

When they concluded Judge J.

C. Carter, made a short talk, announcing his candidacy for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge. He was followed by Mr. Liiburn Phelps, who did not say that he was a candidate to succeed Judge Carter, but that he was in a receptive mood, and would make the race if his friends over the district thought it was the proper thing for him to do. Mr. Phelps is very popular in his home county, and he had been assured of a strong following in the other counties of the district. By this time Mr. Phelps is either a full-fledged candidate or he is out of the race, as the time for filing with the Secretary of State was out last Saturday. Mr. A. A. Huddleston also announced in a short speech his candidacy for re-election to the office of Commonwealth Attorney. Mr. Huddleston is a Republican, as our readers know, and he has no opposition in his party.

The enterprising citizens of Russell are very much interested in the bond issue for the Dixie Highway, and it is believed that the proposition will carry.

Every man who wants to see Russell county prosper should vote for the bonds. Forty thousand dollars is all that is asked, and to carry that amount would not be burdensome.

WANTED: 4,000 good shingles.
Mrs. Fetna Eubank, Columbia, Ky.

Judge W. W. Jones and Attorney General James Garnett, executors of the will of the late Simeon Dockery, sold at Jamestown, last Saturday some property belonging to the estate, at public outcry. Fifteen shares in the bank of Jamestown, brought two for one, and was bought by Charles Hammons, J. N. Meadows and another gentleman whose name we did not get. About ten shares are yet to be sold. They also disposed of a small hill farm and some town lots in Jamestown. Other sales will probably be made this week. The estate foots up close to $90,000.

The continuous rains during this month has damaged corn prospects considerably. The ground being too wet to plow, crab grass took the corn and retarded the latter's growth. We had some dry days last week and a great deal of work was done by farmers, and at this time prospects are favorable for a fair crop, though there will not be as much corn grown as last year. Wheat of the county has been cut, yield about a half crop, but throughout the United States it is much larger than last year.

A good Jersey cow and calf for sale.
Ambrose Williams,
Columbia, Ky.

Miss Dora Eubank, of this place, who was awarded a first-class certificate last week, made the best grade in the county. Her many friends are gratified over her success.

In Columbia next Monday. Hon. E. J. McDermott, Democratic candidate for Governor, will address the people of Adair county at the courthouse.

Do not fail to hear Hon. E. J. McDermott, who will speak in Columbia next Monday. It will be your opportunity to listen to a real speech.

McDermott is one of the best speakers in Kentucky. Come and hear him, next Monday.

Proving a Success.

The Rapid Transit Company was organized for the purpose of hauling goods between Columbia and Campbellsville, offering better service, quicker delivery and better roads.

The company has been operating now for over a week making a round trip daily, and the merchants and shippers are practically unanimous in their approval of the quick and safe delivery. One merchant received 120 dozen fruit jars with none broken, another 4800 pounds of bottles with none broken, which proves the reliability of the springs in this truck.

The local manager, Mr. T. B. Short, stated that he had 50 exclusive orders so far and 3 wholesale firms signed for hauling.

Evidently this kind of delivery is what the people are looking for and the Rapid Transit Company is pleased with the reception given them at Columbia.

A trip over the road to Campbellsville will convince any one of the inestimable value the road-roller wheels have been to the pike. Autoists declare the trip can be made even now with safety, in a little over an hour. The improvement on the road is no surprise to the manager of the company however, as he comes from the blue-grass where all the roads are being made with this type of machine.

Both Mr. Short and Howard are products of the Engineering course of the State University. Mr. Short has for the past five years had charge of the compulsory school law and Children's Court of Lexington, Ky., and is also very much interested in Military affairs, holding the rank of Major of the third Battalion of the First Regiment of National Guards. Mr. Howard is the State agent for the White Motor Co., of Cleveland.

The capacity of the big truck is 5 tons in itself and a pulling capacity of 5 tons more on the trailer. It does seem that the Good Roads Movement have received a national help in securing this company, for if we can get the Dixie Highway through here surely this machine can hold it down.

Commission Expires, Feb. 19, 1916.

Two months ago a company of young men in this place organized a brass band, and when they quit appearing in public they were making good music. What has become of the organization? A band is the life of a town and there is no good reason why one should not succeed in Columbia. The instruments are here, the teacher is here and the talent is here. Get together, boys, and stay together.

Frank Cobb, of Milltown, sold to Dink Durham, of Campbellsville, last week, 10 head of yearling Aberdeen Angus, at $40.00 per head. These yearlings were all by G. B. Cheathams, Aberdeen Angus Bull.

Road Catechism.

What court can issue bonds for building roads?

The Fiscal court. But it cannot issue them until authorized by the legal voters of the county.

In what denominations are bonds issued?

Not less than one hundred dollars and not more than one thousand.

At what rate of interest per annum? Not exceeding 5 per cent.

How long can the bonds run? Not less than five nor more than thirty years.

Can they be sold for less than par value?

No.

When can they be redeemed?

At the pleasure of the court after five years.

When a bond is called for redemption at a certain time will that stop the interest?

Yes.

How is the money raised to pay the interest and redeem the bonds?

By the levy of a tax on the property of the county.

Is any part of it paid by a poll tax?

No.

What amount of tax can be levied in any one year?

Not exceeding thirty cents on the one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of the county.

How is the tax when collected appropriated?

First, to the payment of interest on the bonds! Second, the balance to be placed to the credit on the sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Does the county get any money from any other source?

Yes, from the State aid fund for roads.

How is this fund raised?

By the levy of a five cent State tax on each one hundred dollars of taxable property.

What counties pay the larger portion of this tax?

The richer counties. Jefferson county pays into the fund over a hundred thousand dollars more than it receives from the fund.

What is done with this money.

It is paid to the poorer counties to assist them in building roads.

Does Adair county pay into the State fund more than it receives from it?

No, it receives more than it pays to the State.

Yes, it will pay back one half, $12 - 500.

Then the county will pay one half of the cost of the road, and the State one half?

That is correct.

How is this money spent?

Under supervision of engineers furnished by the department of Public Roads.

What is the advantage of a bond issue for roads?

It enables the county to raise the money and build the roads without delay. With more mileage of construction better contracts can be made.

The public gets the use of the roads without waiting, and the enhancement in the value of the land comes with the completion of the road.

How long will it take to build roads in the county by merely applying the taxes collected and the State aid fund received from the State, as we are now doing?

It is hard to guess—many of us will be buried before they are completed.

How long ought it to take to build roads on the leading highways by borrowing money on a bond issue?

Probably three years.

What is the usual enhancement to the real estate of a county by good road construction?

It is said to be about ten thousand dollars per mile. At this rate eighty miles of good pike road in the county would increase the real estate eight hundred thousand dollars about twenty-five per cent., on the present value as shown by the last census.

What rate of tax is now levied by the county for roads?

Twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars.

What amount would be levied should a bond issue be voted?

It could not exceed thirty cents.

Would this be in addition to the twenty-five cents levy?

No, it would be in place of it.

Thirty cents is the limit.

Then the annual tax of this could not be much greater under one plan than it would be under the other?

No, under the present arrangement it could not exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars.

What did our court house and jail cost?

Something over forty thousand dollars.

Was the credit of the county strained in paying this sum?

If it was no one knew it.

If the county could pay this sum for a court house and jail (and they do not enhance the value of land in the county,) don't you think it could safely risk sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars in good roads and not be in danger of bankruptcy?

To an unprejudiced mind it would seem so.

How are public improvements of any magnitude made?

By a bond issue?

Did the government adopt this plan with the Panama Canal and the Alaska rail road?

Yes.

Is it usual for counties to issue bonds to construct roads?

Yes, it is the usual way.

Hundreds of counties have done it all over the United States, and added to their wealth by so doing.

Who will be benefited by the construction of roads?

Every body now and hereafter.

How will it benefit them now? By putting the money in circulation, and giving employment to the unemployed.

Men who use the spade and pick, and men who have teams can get work at good prices.

Will this be true of all the county?

Yes, because the roads will be built in every direction, and all parts of the county will share in the prosperity, and the money will remain here.

What brings prosperity to a county?

Capital and labor co-operating. It is the only way.

How will it benefit the county hereafter?

The county will be wealthier—intercommunication will be easier; exports and imports can be moved at less expense of time and money; the wear and tear of vehicles and teams will be less; our school, church and social privileges will be much better, in fact the enumeration would be too long for a full answer.

Of Interest to Farmers.

Fifty shorthorns were sold at auction at Asheville, N. C., under the auspices of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association at an average of $125.

A carload of chickens recently purchased in Barren county by a Chicago firm netted the farmers $2,500. They were engaged through the farmer's union.

A wheat field of 175 acres belonging to James Chaney, of Simpson county, was completely devastated by hail Friday night. He will plow up the land and plant it to corn.

C. M. Phillips sold at public sale at Shelbyville, his dairy herd of 96 registered and high grade Jersey cows and heifers, at prices ranging from $40 to $160 for the cows, and from $25 to $80 for the heifers and calves.

One of Harcourt Switzer's cows on his farm near Cynthiana, gave birth to three calves, last week, two heifers and a bull. All three and the mother are doing well. This is the birth record for cows in Harrison county.

Owing to the ravages of cutworms in Bourbon county, it is said that very few farmers have sufficient plants to set their tobacco acreage, though a few are fortunate enough to be able to transplant this month.

The Falmouth outlook says: "John Frazer woke up Thursday morning and found that his old brood mare had found twin mule colts. A very peculiar incident took place. The old granddam, who is 27 years old, claimed one of the colts and had to be taken out of the same field to keep peace in the family."

That from 16,000 to 18,000 men will be needed soon in the harvest fields of Oklahoma, at wages of from $2 to $3 a day and board, has been announced by the United States Bureau of Labor. A Bulletin issued conveys the information that the harvest will begin early in June.

Twenty-four horses that had passed a rigid inspection and were being shipped to the allied armies in Europe, over the Big Four Railway, were found in Mattoon, Ill., last week with their ham strings cut, and the entire carload had to be killed. Every horse in the car was mutilated, evidently by a set of men who worked with razors, or some equally sharp instruments, attached to a pole. The horses had been especially selected for calvary work.

Local hogs and sheep breeders were rejoicing late this week over the lifting of the quarantine against Kentucky, institut-

What's The Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate the seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more than a headache or feelings of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels. Once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. S. Adams, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. L. M. Boyce, Tip Top, Ky., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women, and old folks generally—people who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century. Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, at fifteen cents, one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Killed Son to Aid Love.

George Post, a farmer of McPherson count, Kan., is under arrest charged with the murder of his son, a lad 17 years of age, with the burning of his elegant home and possibly with the murder of his wife within the last 18 months. The authorities are working on the theory that Post became a murderer to win favor with a young woman he was courting and that he killed the boy when he found that a stepson might be an obstacle in the way of his marriage.

In January, 1914, Mrs. Post was killed while sitting at the breakfast table. Rumor had it that she was murdered but Post insisted that he was cleaning a gun that he thought was "not loaded." The weapon discharged and the shot hit Mrs.

Post in the back of the head. Suspicion became more keen when it was learned that the insurance of Mrs. Post's life was sufficient to pay the mortgage on the Post farm.

A few months later the Post home caught on fire. Post and his son fought hard to save the structure, but it was destroyed. With the insurance Post built a bungalow and purchased another farm. Then came the death of his son. The lad had eaten his supper and was doing the chores when his father called neighbors and asked if they had seen his boy. Later the lad was found dead in the barn with his head crushed. He had been struck by a gas pipe. Bloodhounds caught the scent which led to Post's home. Post's father and mother told conflicting stories. Post is now in jail at McPherson.

Business Maxims.

Charles Elliott Warren, a banker of New York, has given the following rules for the guidance of young men:

Go after the highest job in your own business. Every office boy ought to resolve to be the president of the corporation or the head of his firm.

Go long on self-confidence. Never be afraid of tackling anything. Even if you fail you learn a lot.

Don't bother about influence. Application and untiring industry will fatten your wages faster than all the "pull" in the world.

Never sit back and wait for the help of others. The others are too busy helping themselves to bother about you.

Remember that you have got to be better than the other fellow to land the top-notch place for yourself. Two men can't hold the same job.

This is the "Thornhill" Wagon—the Wagon that Must Make Good

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the DIXIE HIGHWAY.

What of this Dixie Highway of which we hear so much talk? Tell me about it? It seems from the papers that every city and town in the county is trying to get it.

Well, that is so. They all see the importance of securing it, and it means very much to those that succeed—the fortunate ones.

It is a proposed line of highway extending from the city of Chicago Ill., to the Atlantic sea coast on the southeast of Florida. It will also be extended hundreds of miles beyond Chicago to the northwest.

Who are proposing to build the road?

The people along the line.

When do they expect to complete it?

It is expected that it will be in reasonably good condition for travel within the next eighteen months. The larger part of it has already been constructed.

Will it receive aid from any other source?

It is believed by well informed persons that the General government will at a very early day turn its attention to public roads, and that these great thoroughfares—the Lincoln Highway and the Dixie Highway, will be the first for which appropriations will be made—one extending from the East to the West the other from the North to the South.

Even without this aid the road will be of incalculable benefit to the country through which they pass, serving the interests of the country better than a railroad would. The auto and the auto-truck are here to stay, and are doing much of the work that was formerly done by the railroads, and their importance to the travel and traffic of the country is being recognized more and more every day. Government aid would naturally be attracted to these roads, and it would make of them boulevards.

How would such a road as the Dixie Highway benefit the country through which it runs?

In many ways. It would draw travel—men seeking investments, men seeking homes, men who would help to develop the resources of the country—it would bring new life and enterprise, and an awakening that would transform it from a condition of stagnation to a condition of activity. Roads would in time extend from it in every direction. As a result there would be better schools, better churches, better dwellings, better farms and a happier and more contented people.

Have we any chance to get this road?

Why yes! Of course we can get it if we want it! It is the one enterprise of our day which is tangible and within our reach, and its loss under the circumstances will be a most serious calamity to the county.

We are on the line—the most direct line that has been proposed, and we only have to build a few miles of pike to secure it.

If we lose it, it will be because we build a barrier against it, and to do so would be our eternal shame.

Our children and our children's children would have cause to reproach us for our short-sightedness.

In to-day's News, Judge John E. Newman, of Nelson county, announces his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner in the Second district, subject to the action of the Democratic voters expressed at the primary to be held Saturday, August 7. There is no better qualified man in the district for this position than Judge Newman, as he is perfectly familiar with the railroad business. He has spent more than ten years of his life in the actual and practical solution of the rate problems, and by reason of his correct knowledge of such matters, Mr. C. C. McChord when he was Chairman of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, induced Mr. Newman to come into the office and take charge of the rate department. Mr. Newman is a tried and true Democrat, a gentleman who stands high wherever he is known for sterling character, his walk in life being that of an upright citizen, standing for the right upon all questions touching the interest of the people.

Until last week he was a perfect stranger to the people of Adair county, but in a short visit, he made a most favorable impression. He asks the Democrats of Adair and adjoining counties to take his candidacy under consideration, feeling that a favorable conclusion will be reached after an investigation. He promises, should he be nominated and elected, to make a faithful, conscientious officer, not forgetting to feel grateful to the people who placed him in the position.

STRONG FOR "BAL" TRIGG.

The political pot is beginning to boil pretty strong and it seems to be rather mixed except in the race for State Senator. Our mutual friend, "Bal" Trigg is going to poll the biggest majority of any Democrat who ever made a race in a primary election in the 19th Senatorial District, and why not? He is in every way well qualified to fill the office to which he aspires, and as a genial clever gentleman he has few equals and no superiors. His democracy has

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side."

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

REGAINS FORMER LIFE AND ENERGY

Miss F. B. Robinson Tells How She Benefitted From Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., June 29, Miss Fine B. Robinson, of the millinery firm of Robinson & Biomer, at 1623 West Market street, this city, a successful and widely known business woman, says she found relief from Tanlac after trying other remedies with no permanent benefit.

"I was in a rundown condition," she explained recently, "and I seemed to have very poor circulation. I suffered from severe headaches, and my sleep was uncertain. I was nervous and lacked energy."

"I tried different physicians and different remedies, without getting any real relief. One day a friend said to me, 'Why not get a bottle of Tanlac? Everyone says it is fine.' I feel that I owe a great deal to the person who suggested that to me. My trouble has disappeared since I began taking this medicine. I am full of energy and vigor, eat heartily, and sleep like a child. My nerves are in fine shape, and my friends have noticed what a change has come over me. Tanlac did it all, and I am glad to say so publicly."

Tanlac, the peerless preparation, is of especial value for its tonic qualities. In cases of languor, poor appetite, sleeplessness, fainting, circulatory, catarrhal troubles and rheumatism it has proved of remarkable benefit, as scores have testified.

This remedy is now on sale in Columbia, at Page & Taylor's drug store. Ad.

there, which I am grateful to God for. There has been many changes since I first left there. Nothing looked natural when I first went back. I certainly did enjoy looking over those beautiful hills and walking down those little paths I once trod, and going to the old spring and drinking out of the old gourd. All of the things brought back to memory my childhood days.

This has been one of the joys of my life to be permitted with this privilege and the greatest of all I brought my mother home with me. She is delighted with her trip. Hip Broken.

One day last week Mrs. Geo. A. Alley, whose home is near Gentry's Mill, this county, met with a very serious accident. She fell and broke one of her hips. Dr. W. J. Flowers, of Columbia, reduced the fracture, and the patient is now doing nicely. Mrs. Alley is a fine lady and her many friends hope that complications will not set up, and that she will recover as speedily as possible.

Got Into Deep Water.

Monday of last week Judge J. C. Carter and Commonwealth's Attorney A. A. Huddleston had a frightful experience while enroute from Creelboro to Jamestown. A heavy rain had fallen during the night, flushing all the streams. In crossing Greasy creek they got into deep water and at one time it looked like they would have to go down with the current, but they finally landed, the only damage being a bad scare and a good wetting.

I keep on hands a full stock of coffins, caskets, and robes. I also keep Metallic Caskets, and Steel Boxes and two hearses. Prompt service night or day. Residence Phone 29, office phone 98.

Bilious Attacks.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach causing nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable at Paull Drug Co's. Ad

When you are about to compliment yourself for exhibiting firmness at the proper moment, doesn't it make you mad to have some one accuse you of being wilfully obstinate?

Restored to Good Health.

"I was sick for four years with stomach trouble," writes Mrs. Otto Gans, Zanesville, Ohio. "I lost weight and felt so weak that I almost gave up hope of being cured. A friend told me about Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using two bottles of them I have been a well woman." Sold by Paull Drug Co. Ad

Prepare for Citizenship.

"When a boy comes to the age of twenty-one and steps over the line into full citizenship, what should he be? What definite ideal should he hold before him? In other words, what is a good citizen?

"I should say," and here the President became very earnest indeed. "I should say that his ideal should be this: That the good citizen is the one who puts his country and its good first. He is the one who, whenever there is a conflict between his personal interests and desires, and the country's good, would not take an instant to decide or hesitate. He would forget his own interests and remember only his country's good.

"Let us take for example a soldier. He goes into battle for his country. He fights for her. He faces danger to win victories for her and what does it matter to him if he be wounded or killed? What matters the shedding of his own blood—so long as his country is served by it?

"It is that idea applied to peace that I want the boys—and everybody else—to get.

"I want the boys to place their country before everything else. Forget their own interests every time. Let them not consider themselves when their country is involved, but do or give or be what their country demands, without thought of any ill or good to themselves.

"That is the preparation for good citizenship. The other things are good—education, the schools, they all have their part—but the real preparation is learning this lesson, to put your country first over yourselves—to put your country before any other country.

"Do that and you are a good citizen. Let but the world prepare so let but that idea become general—the idea of subordinating selfish desires to the general good—and wars will cease forever."—President Wilson in The American Boy.

Ever since Mark Twain made his famous remark in denial of the report of his death, occasion has been frequent for others to make use of that whimsical sentence. Two men who recently assured their families that the reports of their deaths were very much exaggerated are Marvin Ellis, formerly of Louisville, now living in Des Moines, and James Kerr, of St. Louis. Ellis had been reported dead through the fact that his card was found on the body of man killed in a railroad wreck at St. Paul three weeks ago. Mrs. Ellis, former-

OUR PUBLIC FORUMIII---Julius Kruttschnitt*On Financing Railroads

The farmers of this nation need to become better acquainted with the railroad men and their problems.

Managing a railroad is quite different from managing a government where the money is raised by taxation. When the expenditures, for good reasons or otherwise, increase, taxes can be equally increased. The railroads, while servants of the public, cannot raise money with such ease and facility. The railroads must keep their expenditures within their incomes because while they have some control over their expenditures they have almost no control over their incomes, their rates being fixed by public authorities.

There is not a railway manager in the country today who is not fearful that under the press of increasing demands the transportation systems of the country will, in a few years, break down, unless the railroads are allowed to earn larger funds wherewithal to build it up. There are vast sections of the country, especially in the West, where more railroads are needed and which cannot be built unless the railroads raise new capital.

"People invest money in order to make money, and they are skeptical as to whether they can make money by investing in concerns that are dealt with stringently and unfairly. Railroad securities must be made more attractive to invite investments, and in order that they may be made more attractive, the roads must be allowed earnings that will enable them to meet the increased capital charges."

ly Miss Emma Wendelle, of Louisville, sent an undertaker to the depot to meet the corpse for three days. The vigil was rewarded when Ellis himself walked into town. His entrance into his own house threw Mrs. Ellis into nervous prostration.

George Ellis, 1300 South Floyd street, Louisville, was in Des Moines when his brother walked in to contravert the news of his death. Kerr had been officially declared dead by a coroner's jury in St. Louis. A body found in a box car had been identified by relatives as Kerr's, and he was properly interred. When his sister went into hysterics on seeing him and the undertaker insisted that he had buried him, Kerr became so incensed that he left home. A similar case in St. Louis occurred three months ago when Michael Breen returned to his wife, Elsie, in the restaurant which she had opened on the life insurance collected on his death. He was so alive that she had to have him arrested for disturbing the peace.—Louisville Post.
